

Teachers get wet for charity

GENESIS Christian College students had the chance to get their own back on their teachers recently, while helping out a children's charity.

Year 10 business students came up with a novel way of raising funds for the Starlight Foundation – an amusement business which put the principal, head of secondary school and several teachers directly in the firing line.

Students paid for the chance to throw water-logged sponges at the hapless teachers.

Students quickly

GOOD SPORTS: Principal Brian Barker and Mrs Gemma Beard getting Sponge Smashed as a Middle school student watches.

learned that more water on the sponge equalled a bigger splash.

A total of $700 was raised for the Starlight Foundation.